What kinds of capabilities does our process build for young people?

Are we seeking feedback or input from young people?

Are we putting it into action?

Are we comfortable sharing key decisions (budget, timeframes, approach)
with young people?

Are relationships maintained with young people? How?

How are different kinds of young people helping to set the agenda?

Are we confident to prototype and trying new things?

What kinds of value is placed on different forms of knowledge, expertise and evidence?

How coordinated are we across across efforts, groups and sectors and use of resources?

Is there investment in a learning culture?

Are we testing, iterating and sharing our learnings?

What level of investment is there in initiatives that meet needs identified by young people?

Do young people feel welcome in our public spaces and community places?

Are initiatives aligned with positive youth development principles and models?
